Zwing Play Ready For Presentation

Stage Committee Plans Settings
For Old English Comedy,
"Aren't We All?"

M. WEIDNER TO ENACT LEAD

The evening of Saturday, May 11, will feature a three-act English comedy, "Aren't We All?" by Frederick Lonsdale as a special entertainment to bring to a close the annual May Day program.

This, the annual Zwing play, is being brought to completion during the last week of practice by an experienced cast and by a group of assisting committees. The tickets went on sale last week and over three hundred have been sold already.

The stage committee is working on two new settings. These are both interior scenes of an old English home. One scene will be used for the first act and the other for the second and third.

The leading role of the cast will be enacted by Montgomery Weidner '36, as Lord Grenham. It is the part of a sophisticated middle-aged gentleman. Troupiere Sipe '35, as Margot Tratham, and Donald Ohl '36, as Willie Tratham, play opposite roles. The character, Lady Mary Trinton is being portrayed by Dorothy Patterson '35.

The highest points of the comedy are displayed by the Victor, Mr. Lynton, William Tempest '35, and his wife, Freda Schindler '35. Considerable mention should be given to the new star, Caroline Rhodes '38, who is to appear as Kitty Lake.

The supporting minor cast is composed of John Willocks, Fred Schiele '35; Arthur Wells, Irving Rappoport '36; Martin Steel, Robert Gibbel '35; Morton, Edward Ellis '35; and Roberts, Edward Knudsen '35.

Because of participation in the cast of this play, several new members will be admitted to the National Dramatic Fraternity.

RUBY TO APPEAR ON CAMPUS NOT LATER THAN THURSDAY

Editor Announces Number of Copies
For Purchase is Limited

The much-awaited for Ruby will not be awaited for much longer. Not later than Thursday, May 9, will the 1935 "intimate" yearbook publication be on campus, and the possibility that it may appear a day earlier is evident from the statement received by the editor from the binder, in whose hands the Rubies are now being finished and packed for shipment.

Of the 350 copies of the Ruby that have been printed, over 175 have already been paid for, while over 125 have been ordered and reserved by students alone. This leaves approximately 40 books to supply the faculty, administration, alumni, and friends, to say nothing of the fact that the district manager of the Jahn and Ollier Engraving Co. has placed an order for six copies which are to be used as samples for future sales.

The editor, Harry Brian, announces that the students will be notified as soon as the books arrive, and the distributing point for the Rubies will be the same as last year, at the "Weekly" room in the rear of the Library. No books will be given out unless paid for in full.

DR. OMWAKE SUFFERS RELAPSE

A late report today from the Graduate Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania states that Dr. Omwake has taken a turn for the worse and has been steadily declining since Saturday.

Attending physicians are silent except as to his general condition. Narcotics are being administered to offset the effects of the relapse.

High, Preparatory School Seniors to be Guests At Ursinus for Open House Days, May 11 and 18

Visitors to Be Present for May Pageant and Athletic Events;
Laboratory, Physical Education Exhibits to Be Given

On two Saturdays in May, the 11th and 18th, Ursinus is sponsoring for the first time an "Open House" for high school principals and seniors and for preparatory school seniors.

The program, as explained, is identical on both Saturdays. It includes library exhibits, displays in all fields of science in the science building, gym exhibitions by physical education students, presentation of the historical development of Ursinus College, an opportunity to discuss careers, and numerous other features.

On both days the science building will offer a continuous display of motion pictures, special films showing protozoan life, plant traps, electrolysis, etc. Characteristic exhibits will be arranged in all laboratories—physics, biology, chemistry, and astronomy. The latter, for instance, will give an opportunity to view the sun spots, learn the method of calculating time and of using the Transit.

"Open House" was instituted according to one of the administrators, "to stimulate serious thinking, concerning future vocational possibilities." Its primary aim is to offer instructive information rather than solely to entertain.

The May Pageant, "Our Heritage of Women," on May 11; and a tennis match, Ursinus vs. Lebanon Valley, in addition to a track meet, Ursinus vs. St. Joseph's, on May 18, will serve as entertainment on the two occasions.

Exhibits of books by Ursinus graduates and members of the Faculty will be on display in the College library. Dormitories will be open both days for inspection.

For those students who are uncertain about careers, Dr. E. B. White and Professor F. I. Sheeder are conducting a career forum. Other instructors will be available for conferences.

Registration for "Open House" will begin in Bomberger at 10:00 a. m. (d. s. t.) on both days.

ANNUAL PAGEANT TO TRACE CONTRIBUTIONS OF WOMEN

Prudence Dedrick to Be Crowned
Queen of Festivities

Again, the gay festivity of spring ushers to the Ursinus campus the celebration of May Day, which will be held on Saturday, May 11. The east campus will be the scene of the pageant, "Our Heritage of Women" by Elizabeth McBride, to be presented at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

The theme of the pageant is centered upon worthwhile contributions that various women through the ages have made to mankind in the fields of literature, religion, government and education.

The May Queen, who is Prudence Dedrick '35, presides over the festivities and accepts the program, which an individual called "History" offers for her entertainment. The Elf of History accompanies her and portrays the part of a comedian.

Sappho, the poetess; St. Clair of Assisi, a religious leader; Queen Elizabeth, the exponent of good government; and Mary Lyon, one of the greatest pioneers of education for women in the United States—all offer scenes of entertainment. The pageant is concluded with a "Hymn to Womanhood," in which all members of the pageant participate.

Will LaMon's Boys to Furnish Rhythm for Dance on Friday

Will LaMon and his College Club Orchestra have been engaged to supply rhythm for the May Hop, the final dance of the year, to be held Friday evening, May 10, at 8:00 p. m. in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

Will LaMon and his thirteen piece group have appeared at two other dances this year, first, at the Christmas Party and then at the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association Dance. On Friday, he will use two pianos to scan the music of today's most popular pieces.

The Council on Student Activities which is sponsoring this dance is charging an admission fee of 75 cents.

The committee in charge of the affair consists of Harry Brian '35, Jane Stephen '35, Thomas Beddow '36, and Nancy Pugh '36.

Alumni may reserve tickets for the play "Aren't We All?" or for the May Pageant by sending their requests to the registrar's office. Orders should be sent at once to insure seats at either event.

TRUMBORE CHOSEN TO HEAD LETTERMEN IN COMING YEAR

Okeson, Mayser, Ursinus Coaches
Speak at Banquet

Election of officers, speeches by Walter R. Okeson, chairman of the Inter-Collegiate Football Officials Association, and tricks by Charles Mayser, a magician from Lancaster, constituted the after-dinner phase of the Varsity Club banquet, on Thursday evening.

The election returns were as follows: president, Leon Trumbore '36; vice-president, tie between Gene Bradford '36, and Robert McLaughlin '36; secretary-treasurer, Kermit Harbaugh '36; and editor of "Grizzly Gridder", Thomas Glassmoyer '36.

Mr. Okeson used as his theme "The Development of Football," reviewing the origin of the game in England and tracing its growth in America up to the present day. He explained that English football remains unaltered, while American rules are subject to frequent revisions.

Expressing favor for the small college, Mr. Okeson explained the closeness of contact between student and faculty. He showed that such a condition creates fellowship among students.

Mr. Mayser amused all by demonstrating his use of magic. Some of the tricks he performed were of old Chinese origin.

Coaches Jack MacAvoy, Russel C. Johnson, Kuhrt Wieneke, and Alvin Paul spoke in connection with their work. Coach MacAvoy expressed his satisfaction with this past year's football team; Mr. Johnson stated his favor for non-differentiation between major and minor sports; Coach Wieneke offered a successful prediction for future success in wrestling; Coach Paul spoke on freshman football.

Professor Harvey L. Carter acted in the capacity of toastmaster.

WOMANS' CLUB TO SPONSOR TEA FOR STUDENTS' MOTHERS

Immediately following the May Day pageant on the afternoon of Saturday, May 11, a tea for the mothers of all Ursinus students will be held in the Girls' Day Study.

The affair is directed by four mothers representative of the four college classes. Those in charge of the 1935 tea are: Mrs. Thomas Brendle, Egypt; Mrs. Francis T. Krusen, Norristown; Mrs. George H. Seitz, Reading; Mrs. John Jones, Norristown; and hostess, Mrs. Cordry.

The Governing Board of the Club will meet on Friday evening, May 10, at 7:30, in the faculty room of the Library.

CANDIDATES FOR STUDENT COUNCIL TO BE NOMINATED

Nominations of candidates to run for membership on the Men's Student Council will be held in Bomberger tomorrow at noon. Elections will be held a week later. Both nominations and elections will be under the supervision of the Executive Committee of the Council.

At the elections the juniors will choose five members, the sophomores three, and the freshmen two, who will represent their respective classes on the Council for the year 1936-37.

Drexel Dragons Down Grizzlies

Grimm Leads Scoring As Bears
Bow to Philadelphians
By Score of 71-55

TIMES SLOW IN COLD DRIZZLE

Athletes of Ursinus and Drexel met on Patterson Field, Saturday, to officially open the Bears' track and field season, and the Dragons returned to Philadelphia with a 71-55 victory to their credit.

The Grizzlies held their own in the first several events but were pushed back when the Dragons took all three places in the 880 dash, one mile, and two mile runs, and later made up a little of their difference by taking all three places in the broad jump.

The host team took only four first places and shared a fifth, while the invaders received first honors in nine events and tied in the tenth. The Bears, however, came in second in eight tries as compared to their opponents five. Each team received seven third places.

Johnny Grimm was the big gun for the Bears, taking first in the broad jump and both high and low hurdles, for a total of fifteen points. Pancoast stood next with nine counters by annexing first place in the 100 yard dash, second in the 440, and third in the 220. Meadowcroft led the Dragons with ten points garnered in the 880 yard dash and the one-mile run.

Times and distances were generally poor on account of the cold drizzle which continued throughout the meet. The high light of the fracas came in the 440 yard dash when Pancoast, the only contestant for Ursinus, battled five men to come in just back of first place.

THIS IDEA OF "OPEN HOUSE"

For the next two Saturdays Ursinus College is throwing open its doors to receive and entertain both students already registered here and those who are anticipating college but whose plans are as yet indefinite. In other words, it is going to employ, for the first time in its history, a policy of "Open House".

The idea of "Open House" is of comparatively recent origin. It has arisen, it seems, as a result of the depression and was instituted to stir up a new interest in college—an interest which administrators feared would fade because of economic conditions.

Many other colleges have preceded Ursinus in this movement. Johns Hopkins College, Bates College, and the University of Pennsylvania, for instance, have for the past few years been presenting elaborate programs for high school seniors. Lehigh University and Muhlenberg College have likewise been observing a similar occasion, "sub-freshman day".

The Ursinus "Open House" is unique in that it is the only one to extend over two week-ends, May 11 and 18. It has prepared a definite program, which is outlined in an article in this issue; but in general, it is safe to say that its plan is not to make costly, extensive exhibitions, but rather to present Ursinus in as natural a way as possible.

As organized, "Open House" offers a chance for getting acquainted and for receiving instructive information about college, its aims, its interests, etc. The career forum, for example, conducted by Dr. Elizabeth B. White and Professor Franklin I. Sheeder, will give visitors a special time to receive guidance in selection of and in preparation for a career.

"Open House" provides a great educational opportunity for prospective students. At Ursinus it is a new and excellent undertaking, deserving of the heartiest support by all those connected with the College.

ARE COLLEGES HOTBEDS OF RADICALISM?

The charge has been recently brought against the American college that it is a hotbed of radicalism and revolutionary doctrine, that from the college spring the wild, undeliberated actions and plans thought prevalent in the United States today. People think that all, or nearly all, college students are radicals. How much truth is there in this charge?

On the Monday following the I. N. A. banquet, at which Don Rose was a speaker, there appeared in his daily column the following: "They have been telling us lately that American colleges are becoming hotbeds of revolutionary doctrine. From what I saw Saturday I don't believe it. Twenty colleges sent their delegates to the I. N. A. conference at Ursinus, from as far away as Washington, the northern edge of New York State, and the west coast of Pennsylvania. And they were gently but firmly lectured by Dr. Luther Harr, Secretary of Banking for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the timidity and conventionality of the editorial utterances in their college newspapers."

After the banquet that evening, Mr. Rose informally expressed the belief that rather than radicalism in the American college, there was a reaction toward that part of it which was becoming prevalent in politics and economics, thus tending toward conservatism.

We are inclined to agree with Mr. Rose. We know of no other place where there is so much conservatism, so much conformity to custom and tradition in manners and dress as in the typical college. In thought, perhaps the same cannot be so strongly asserted. In college, students are taught to think rationally, practically, and logically. This type of thinking is neither conservative nor yet radical; it would not hold that what exists is best and should not be changed, nor again that every change should be brought about by revolutionary means. It contains the general idea of progress by reasonable methods. That part of our social, political, or economic set-up which is outmoded should gradually be replaced by something which more nearly fulfills our present needs.

We cannot think, then, that colleges breed revolutionary propaganda or actions. Their stand is largely in the middle ground of progressiveness, with a possible learning toward conservatism.

GRIZZLY GLEANINGS

News Flash—Fred Waring, erstwhile orchestral highlight and his group of entertainers, at last find out that there is a place called Ersinus. In a medley of college songs he mentions Ersinus in connection with a headache. Smart guy, huh?

As a Matter of Protest

Dear Waring:

In response to your snack of publicity the other evening, we wish to call your attention to the fact that you mentioned Ersinus, our alma mammy, in conjunction with a headache. Let us not be misunderstood, Waring, my good fellow, that we are not happy to receive said publicity, but really, the manner in which our recognition was broadcast over the etheral waves was most embarrassing to say the least.

Do you realize what this means to Ersinus? To be mentioned on a Waring program is one thing, but to be uttered in the same breath with a headache is another. Headaches are pains which are generally conceded to be obnoxious to one's personal feelings, and surely, Waring, you do not wish to classify our beloved alma mammy in that category? Of course, the fact that the syllables "sinus" in the word Ersinus relate to headaches, pains in the schnoz, et al, is also comparable with the same "sinus" of Zacharias extraction. Nevertheless, Ersinus in itself does not exactly give us a pain (although we do admit that certain features and personages about our Main Street Estate do, should we say, grip us occasionally?)

But all this is neither here nor there. We wish to say this, Waring, that in the future, will you please be more discrete when you give said Ersinus some of your musical recognition? If you must shower us with publicity (which we just can't seem to get away from since the Penn game), why not play our campus song, or "Pig skin, go over that line"? Or possibly one of the chants from Grecian Maidens' dance in our May Pageant might go over big with the howling public. Of course, we realize that this latter task would be extremely difficult, considering the complexity of the musical score entailed therein, but we feel sure that Will LaMon and his 'lamons' could give you some first hand information about this type of music, since he has been practicing these chants in our own May Pageant Cathedral of Music.

Well Waring, we know you'll do better in the future and that Ersinus will no longer be thought of in the same terms of an aspirin tablet.

Sincerely,

Joseph Ersinus

P. S.—Could you reemploy Babs and her brothers long enough to have them sing our, "Faculty Song?"

FROM OUR FILES

Curtain Club, Take Note!

Since another play will be presented upon our campus within the next week, it might be well to review some "play-news" that appeared in previous issues of the Weekly.

Here is a bit of free advertising from a 1915 paper: "Come one! Be a sport and join the crowd. A rare treat is guaranteed all who attend. 'Twill be pastime for the ladies and fun for the babies."

In 1920, Josephine Xander (now Mrs. F. I. Sheeder) took the leading female role in "What Would A Gentleman Do?". Ethelbert Yost likewise had a role, and our own Mr. Brownback was stage-manager.

It was stated in that same Weekly that sundaes and cake were sold after the play. Since our feds may not visit "filling-stations" after dramatic presentations, why not try that again?

How About Huey?

Fifteen years ago more than forty Ursinus students formed an organization to further Herbert Hoover as a candidate for President of United States. F. I. Sheeder was elected vice-president.

The Convention Fad.

J. Hampton Moore, a former mayor of Philadelphia, addressed the I. N. A. Convention that convened on our campus ten years ago, and more than 20 colleges were represented at the Y. M. C. A. Conference at Ursinus in 1930.

RAMBLING at RANDOM

'Midst passion for study, I have often been disturbed by the tinkling sound of shattered glass, the swish and splash of water, the tramp of marching feet with fife and drum accompaniment, or the incessant murmur of voices in the next room, rising and falling in loudness according to the size of the problem to be solved. I have always sworn at such interference and, after due hair-tearing, most always have ended up by lending a hand.

Lately, however, much of it has disappeared so that now when I relax into meditation nothing but peace and quiet reach my ears. Sometimes an overwhelming sense of loneliness steals on me; my over-exercised self-control goes loco and I catch myself asking, "What do you think of this or that?", with nothing for an audience but a wall, a picture, and some neglected books; or, on extreme occasions, I have reached for a glass of water and dashed it on my head, just for old times' sake (?). Anyway I have come to the conclusion that there is nothing quite so disconcerting as said peace and quiet.

Of course, being social-minded, I can only be thankful that my college brothers (and myself) no longer have to ply their weary ways between puddles of water and pieces of glass on barefoot excursions into the halls. But, somehow or other, I cannot but regret the infrequency of the little parades and the bull-sessions. The bull-sessions, especially, were a source of keen pleasure. Despite the Mae Westian interludes and the moments when the riding skill of the group centered on one luckless individual, there was an intelligent give and take on current problems, religion, school life, etc., that sent a warm chill of friendship and mutual understanding through the coldest heart. But, like the poet who in the fall exhorts the summer's return, I can only pray for their quick revival. To misquote Shakespeare:

"My heart is in the coffin, there, with bull-sessions,
And I must pause 'til it comes back to me."

We do some queer things in our lives; the eccentricity of some we realize at the moment, while we become aware of the same characteristic in others through the kind information of both our friends and people who are just general busybodies. But never did I imagine I would some day stand beside a widely known newspaper columnist at midnight, gazing at and admiring the beauty of the Gothic architecture of a Swedish cathedral within ten miles of the third largest city of the country. Despite the time and the rest of the goofy things about the situation, however, it was really beautiful. And it occurred to me upon reflection that the next time I wanted to study architecture I'd do so on a moonlight midnight. Only this time I'd do it alone. At times there seems to be an advantage in having no one's company but one's own.

An address of departure was given by the retiring editor of the Weekly, Jesse G. Heiges '35, who expressed his gratitude for past cooperation from the staff and his wishes that the same be continued under the new editor. Speaker Is Coach of Track Team At Temple University

Ben Ogden, present track coach of Temple University and one of the outstanding coaches in the country, gave an illustrated lecture Monday evening, April 29, before an audience composed of many College track men.

Mr. Ogden has studied the technique of track and the players for twenty years. He has taken many valuable pictures during this time and uses them illustratively in his lectures.

Mr. Ogden gave the many good and bad points exhibited by diverse runners, the technique for field events and exercises for the development of speed, endurance, and stride. He particularly stressed the conditioning of the runner along two lines: mental and physical.

In conclusion, he stated that he felt that almost anyone could be a track star. The player's ability and desire for success are the determining factors, for the coach is only an advisor.

*The mild cigarette the athletes smoke

A cigarette so mild you can smoke all you want—that's what athletes say about Camels. And when a champion talks about "condition"—"wind"—healthy nerves—real tobacco mildness—he's got to know.

Gene Sarazen says: "Playing as much as I do—I have to keep in condition. I smoke Camels steadily. They are so mild they never get my 'wind'—never upset my nerves."

Other athletes back him up. "I smoke all the Camels I want, and keep in top condition," says Mel Ott, slugger of the New York Giants. "Georgia Coleman, Olympic diver, says: "Camels don't cut down on my 'wind.'"... Bill Miller, oarsman; Jim Lancaster, N. Y. U.'s 1934 basketball captain; John Skillman, pro squash racquets champion—hundreds of sports stars smoke Camels regularly and report that Camels never get their "wind" or nerves.

What this mildness means to you!... It means you can smoke Camels all you want! Athletes have made this discovery: Camel's costlier tobaccos are so mild, they can smoke all they please, without disturbing their "wind" or nerves.

SOPHOMORES PLACE FIRST IN INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

Grimm Leads Scoring for Juniors;
Yale High for Freshmen

The inter-class track and field crown for 1935 goes to the sophomores as a result of the annual inter-class track and field meet held on Patterson Field, Tuesday afternoon. The winners rolled up 33½ points while their closest rival scored 57½. The yearlings finished third with 46 counters with the seniors trailing last with only eleven.

Although the juniors were favored to win the contest, they failed to enter a sufficient number of men in the different events, whereas the victors had several men in almost every event. Points ranging from five to one were awarded for the five places if that number were entered.

The winners scored the greatest number of their counters on the track while the juniors were superior on the field. Johnny Grimm was high scorer for the juniors as well as for the meet with 21 points to his credit, taking first place in both high and low hurdles and in the broad jump, and third in the discus and javelin throw. Bradford finished second for the runners-up with nine points.

Elmer Gaumer proved to be the biggest factor in the sophomores' victory, rolling up 16 points by taking first in the high jump, second in the 880 yd. run and the 120 yd. high hurdles, and finishing third in the 220 yd. low hurdles. Pancoast followed with fourteen counters taking two firsts and a second place.

Although Yale came in first in the three distance runs, his class could register only third place. The seniors finished far back in the line taking one first, one second, and two last places for a total of eleven points.

Women's Tennis Team Blanked
By Swarthmore Coeds, Monday

The Swarthmore coeds pulled a 5-0 victory over the Ursinus racqueteers in Monday's tilt at Swarthmore.

At the outset, it seemed as if the players had the advantage but after the loss of Lydia Ganser's match with Doris Sonnehoin 6-2, 6-2, there was a decided leaning toward the opponents.

At the same time, "Bups" Francis, in her second match of the season, yielded to Ann Lapham with the final score 6-3, 6-3.

With her accurate placement of the tennis "pill", Ruth Lecron gave Barbara Brooks a hard fight for the first set which ended 11-9. The second set pulled Lecron to an easy defeat of 6-1.

Both doubles were taken by Swarthmore, thus making it their sweeping victory. The two yearlings, Stover and Buck, were defeated by Harvay and Allison 6-0, 6-1. Capt. Barnett and Seitz were taken over in a three set match by Stubbs and Hapham, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

Track and Field Records of Past Seasons Are Compiled

The past track season found two college records shattered. Both are in performances on the cinder path, both are hurdle records, and both were changed by John Grimm '36. In neither the high nor the low hurdles was Grimm's time fast enough, however to give him a place among the record holders of Patterson Field. In the high he fell short by one-tenth second, while in the low he failed by one second. Of the College records, only four are held by people now in College; all were established in the past year. Of the Patterson Field records, Ursinus holds but four, with West Chester out in front with seven of these marks.

Grizzly Netmen Are Victors
Over School of Osteopathy

Carter's Grizzly netmen scored their first victory of the season Friday afternoon when they downed the Philadelphia School of Osteopathy by the score of 5-0. The match was played at 48th and Spruce Streets. Rain prevented the completion of the contest, shutting out the fifth singles match and the second doubles.

The team showed promise of a good season in this, their second match of the season, as the four singles players swept through to easy victories. In the only doubles match played, Worster and Fenimore completely outstroked their opponents in a two-set match. Captain Heiges again set the pace by vanquishing his foe in two sets by the score of 6-1, 6-0.

Singles—Davison (U) defeated Koch (O), 6-2,6-3; Heiges (U) defeated Speer (O), 6-1, 6-0; Worster (U) defeated Tongii (O), 6-3, 2-6, 6-1; Fenimore (U) defeated Styles (O), 8-6, 6-1; Gaumer (U), Adams (O), called because of rain.

Doubles—Worster and Fenimore (U) defeated Koch and Styles (O), 6-1, 6-3; Heiges and Davison (U) Speer and Tongii (O), called because of rain.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

"Cy" Pancoast could have used "Hymie" Bassman's interference in that quarter mile Saturday. But the "distancers" * * *

By the way, now we know why the Bear Grapplers don't have a chance at F. and M. * * * Mayser is a magician.

While we're on the subject of wrestling, Tiger Turner, and "Kravitz" lost their bouts at the A. A. U., due to their misunderstanding of the point system.

Muhlenberg boasts a battery weighing 450 pounds—well we're not so light on second, either.

The Mules last year battery of Heist and Wiener, who hit just about everybody, had a try-out with the Cards but became dissatisfied and quit. Let's hope "Lefty" Trumbore gets a better "break" when he travels to St. Louis.

Those empty seats at the banquet might have worried the committee but those that were there did not worry about the extra servings.

Maybe the track-team had saved itself for the Dinner Dances, Glen Grey, etc., last Saturday. Oh! Well! we can still "break all records by beating St. Joe's and Albright."

Curtis and Derr Tie for First Place in Inter-dorm League

As a result of last week's competition, Curtis and Derr have come to the fore in the Inter-dorm League, each team winning all three games it played. Because of rain their clash was called off on Thursday.

Freeland started well by winning two and losing one. The game between Freeland and Brodbeck was the most interesting of the matches thus far, with Freeland eking out an 11-10 victory in a battle which required eight innings.

The six postponed games will be played this week, after which the second half will start. At the end of the season, the winners of the two halves will meet in a three-game series to determine the championship team.

Chak, Vaccaro Lead Batting Attack
As Cubs Drop Game

The Ursinus yearlings dropped a loosely-played game to the Villanova frosh, by the score of 10 to 5, Monday afternoon at Villanova.

Coach Chase's men jumped off to a poor start in the first inning, when Villanova took advantage of Billger's four free passes to take the lead by four runs. Six more counters crossed the plate while the Cubs scored five times.

A return game is scheduled for May 13, when Chase's team hopes to gain revenge.
